STUDENT COUNCIL ELECTION

The school election campaign buzzed with fervor and excitement. Candidates adorned the quadrangle with colorful posters, outlining their visions for a brighter future. Spirited debates echoed through classrooms, as contenders passionately articulated their vision. On the election day, the school used its electronic voting system, which has ushered in a wave of modernity. Students logged in, casting their votes with a few taps on the system. The electronic voting system not only streamlined the process but also empowered every student's voice to be heard. It was a momentous step towards fostering democratic values within the school community.

THE FUNPLASTIC AWARENESS PROGRAMME

The FunPlastic Awareness Programme is an engaging and educational initiative by Borouge, Abu Dhabi designed to raise awareness about the importance of responsible plastic usage among school students. Through an interactive workshop, informative presentations, and hands-on activities, the program aimed to instil a sense of environmental consciousness in young minds. Students are taught about the impact of plastic pollution on our ecosystems and are provided with practical tips on reducing plastic waste in their daily lives. By making learning about sustainability enjoyable and relatable, the FunPlastic Awareness Programme empowers the next generation to be proactive stewards of the environment, fostering a more sustainable future for all.

FARMERS MARKET

The farmers market organized by Merryland school students is a commendable initiative that not only promotes sustainable agriculture but also nurtures valuable entrepreneurial skills among the young participants. The market serves as a vibrant hub for the student community, offering fresh, organic produce. It also raises awareness about the importance of sustainable and eco-friendly practices. Through this event, students learn about the intricacies of agriculture, economics, and business management, all while fostering a deep appreciation for the efforts of our local farmers. This farmers market not only enriches the school's educational environment but also contributes positively to the wider community.

BOOK FAIR

Merryland School book fair is an exciting and educational event that brings the joy of reading to life within the school community. Organized annually, it provides a platform for students, teachers, and parents to explore a wide array of books across various genres and subjects. The fair typically features a curated selection of titles, ranging from children's literature to academic resources, allowing attendees to discover new authors and perspectives. Additionally, book fairs often incorporate engaging activities, author meet-and-greets, and storytelling sessions, enhancing the overall experience. It not only encourages a love for reading but also supports literacy initiatives by providing access to a diverse range of books. The school book fair is a cherished tradition that fosters a culture of lifelong learning and a deep appreciation for the written word.

PROPHET MUHAMMAD'S (PBUH) BIRTHDAY

The celebration of Prophet Muhammad's(PBUH) birthday in school is a momentous occasion that fosters a sense of unity, understanding, and respect among students of different backgrounds. It provides an opportunity to learn about the life and teachings of Prophet Muhammad(PBUH), emphasizing values such as compassion, tolerance, and justice. Students also engage in acts of kindness and charity, reflecting the Prophet's teachings of generosity and benevolence. Through this celebration, the school not only promotes cultural awareness but also reinforces the importance of empathy and respect for diverse faith traditions. It serves as a powerful reminder of the universal values that connect us all, regardless of our religious beliefs.

BIOXHIBITION

The school biology department's exhibition on cell structure was a captivating showcase of the intricate building blocks of life. The exhibit features an array of meticulously crafted models and interactive displays, each offering a fascinating glimpse into the microscopic world. From detailed 3D models of animal and plant cells to dynamic animations illustrating cellular processes, the exhibition brings the complexities of cellular biology to life. Students, armed with newfound knowledge, eagerly guide visitors through the displays, explaining the functions of organelles and the remarkable processes that sustain life at the cellular level. It's a testament to the wonders of nature, revealing the awe-inspiring complexity that underlies every living organism on our planet.

CAREER DAY

When Merryland students discussed the careers they plan to pursue, it's like peering into a kaleidoscope of dreams and aspirations.. Some expressed a passion for the arts, envisioning themselves as painters, actors, or musicians, while others gravitated towards the world of science, dreaming of becoming doctors, engineers, or scientists on the cutting edge of discovery. There were those with a flair for words, aiming to be writers, journalists, or communicators, while others are drawn to the realm of business and entrepreneurship, eager to innovate and lead. The more adventurous souls set their sights on professions like astronauts, explorers, or marine biologists, fueled by a thirst for new frontiers. Each student's career vision was a unique tapestry of interests, talents, and aspirations, and as they shared their dreams, they inspire one another with a sense of possibility and purpose.

The sight of Merryland school students engrossed in solving the Rubik's Cube is a testament to their determination, logic, and problem-solving skills.. The atmosphere is one of quiet concentration, punctuated by the satisfying clicks and whirs of the cubes. As algorithms and patterns are mastered, the students' confidence grows, and the Rubik's Cube becomes a symbol of their persistence and intellectual prowess. Through this engaging pursuit, they not only sharpen their analytical abilities but also cultivate a sense of achievement and satisfaction in overcoming a complex task. The Rubik's Cube has become a beloved symbol of intellectual curiosity and tenacity within the school community, inspiring students to tackle challenges with creativity and determination.
